DESCRIPTION

Those attending this two-day event will experience how world famous master opera singer Marcello Giordani listens, instructs and critiques the technique of opera singing.

There will be 14 carefully selected and qualified singers to participate in the program. By attending the Master Classes, you will, in essence, hear a recital of operatic works sung by 14 gifted singers and benefit by two days of instructions on vocal production by a famous current master singer.

On the first day, half of the applicants will perform an operatic aria, and the other half will receive instructions, techniques and theory about the art of singing. The second day will reverse the order.
